The diagram illustrates a chord progression of 1-5-6-4 in the key of C. It consists of four rows, each representing a piano keyboard with a specific chord highlighted in green. The first row shows the C major chord (C4, E4, G4). The second row shows the G major chord (B3, D4, F4). The third row shows the A minor chord (A3, C4, E4). The fourth row shows the F major chord (F3, A3, C4). Blue highlights on the keys indicate the notes from the previous chord that remain in the same position for the next chord, showing the smooth transitions between them.
